

Yanks put on assassination alert in Saigon after terrorist attacks

SAIGON UPI—In the war's greatest wave of terror, Communist guerrillas today blasted the largest U.S. Marine helicopter base and went on a machine gun rampage through a Vietnamese village. American commanders in Saigon put their men on an assassination alert.

Government spokesmen said Viet Cong machine gunners killed 15 civilians and wounded 18 more in their sweep through Tea Quay Village, driving beyond 500 the number of dead and injured in their campaign to ruin South Vietnam's presidential elections.

Hours earlier guerrillas killed four Leathernecks and wounded 80 more in a rocket assault on the giant Marble Mountain base where nine helicopters were destroyed, the runway ripped up and buildings smashed.

Vietnamese spokesmen said the terror is the worst of the war but gave no sign of slackening the election campaign which ends in voting Sunday.

American military commanders in Saigon ordered special precautions for all U.S. personnel in the capital. They curtailed all military passes in the city and told troops to leave their duty posts only on vital business—and then in pairs at least.

The security clampdown followed the assassination last week of a U.S. soldier on a Saigon street, the fatal shooting of a Vietnamese intelligence officer in the city and the seizure by American troops of a massive guerrilla arms cache near the capital.

Vietnamese government officials predicted more trouble but chief of state Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu vowed Sunday publicly to protect his capital.

Government spokesmen said a platoon of home guards was shattered by the guerrilla terror attack on Tea Quay, 273 miles northeast of Saigon. It followed a pattern of mass violence that began Sunday.

Government spokesmen said the guerrillas killed or wounded more than 500

South Vietnamese in Sunday's wave of raids that included butchering men, women and children in their hospital beds. Including the Marble Mountain attack, seven Americans were killed and 103 wounded in the 24 hours of terror.

The Viet Cong, almost desperate to spoil the election and undercut the ballot box, used even children to mount the Sunday attacks.

At Can Tho, The Mekong Delta provincial capital where 46 Vietnamese were killed and 222 injured in one strike Sunday, UPI correspondent Richard V. Oliver emerged from the wreckage of a hospital and reported the dead included a four-year-old girl who was visiting her wounded father. An American Army doctor, Maj. John Proe of Albuquerque, N.M., said, "You know, people who say Vietnamese don't cry—that they are stoical—should have been here. These people are hurting."

At Hoi An, 340 miles northeast of Saigon, U.S. Marine medics looked up from their patients to find guerrillas charging them. "We were face to face with them," said Maj. Martin A. Funk of (Park Ridge) Chicago. The dead in Hoi An included one American, 17 government soldiers, an uncounted number of civilian adults, nine children and six terrorists—including a 12-year-old boy, reported UPI correspondent Alvin B. Webb.

The terrorists hit four provincial capitals and invaded a refugee camp for Viet Cong defectors. But the number one military target was the helicopter base outside Da Nang.

In other action:—U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division troops drove off a major Communist force 21 miles north of Saigon and seized a huge store of terrorist arms. The fight cost two Americans dead and 12 wounded Sunday.

American spokesmen said a record-tying 15 U.S. planes were lost in bombing North Vietnam last week.

Special features highlight Ladies Day at State Fair

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Linda Culp's grand champion steer "Orphie" goes on the auction block today, highlighting the fourth day of the Indiana State Fair.

Today was Ladies Day at the exposition, with special features in the Women's Building.

Other major attractions were Herb Alpert and his Tijuana Brass in front of the grandstand, preceded by Tomy Steiner's rodeo in the afternoon.

Linda, 13-year-old daughter of the Clyde Culp of Rensselaer, grabbed the coveted grand championship with her 1,007-pound Hereford Saturday afternoon. Her family operates a 100-acre farm, specializing in the raising of Herefords.

Tom Stewart, Greensburg, showed the reserve champion, an 876-pound Angus steer, which also went on sale at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum today along with other prize animals.

Despite chilly weather, a large crowd of fair-goers turned out Sunday to view an Armed Forces Day program in front of the grandstand.

Top individual blue ribbons went to a Morgan County girl, Glenda Mills, 18, Mooresville, who was selected Indiana Pork Queen, and to Mrs. Galen Shultz of Montpelier, judged overall winner in the adult homemakers style show.

Division winners in the style show were Mrs. Marilyn Cooperider, Jasonville; Mrs. Thomas D. Hathaway, Franklin, and Mrs. Leon Whaley, Bloomington. Mrs. Shultz won the family outfit division.

Cindy Burk, 17, Mount Summit, won the 4-H Dress Review and a free trip to the 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Jerry Strahl, 17, Greenfield, was named 4-H grand champion sheep showman, an honor captured by his brother two years earlier.

Not superstitious

LONDON UPI — Patricia Brown, 25-year-old daughter of Foreign Secretary George Brown, announced Sunday she will wed businessman Derek Knowles, 38, in October and explained how they picked the date.

She said they have asked the registrar for a day "when things aren't too busy." He replied, "Come Friday the 13th, no one ever gets married then." She and Knowles agreed.

Arab leaders schedule summit conference

By United Press International
Threats of a boycott by two of the most militant Arab leaders today cast shadows over the scheduled summit conference called to plan strategy to "eliminate the consequences of Israeli aggression" and punish alleged supporters of the Jewish state.

Both Algerian President Houari Boumedienne and Syrian President Nourdin Atassi were said to be angered by what they felt was the growing influence of the moderates in the Arab bloc.

A government controlled weekly in Algiers said Sunday that the differences among the Arab leaders were so deep the summit meeting in Khartoum would amount to little more than "organized travels."

Atassi also has taken a hardline position. Damascus Radio announced last week that the ruling Ba'ath party had been called into special session to discuss the Middle East situation. As party secretary, Atassi would have to attend the congress which generally last from one week to 10 days.

The Arab chiefs of state meeting is scheduled to open Tuesday.

There has been no official or press reaction thus far in the Arab capitals to the repeated call over the weekend by Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba to his fellow leaders to adopt a more "realistic" policy toward Israel. His original appeal in 1965 brought immediate denunciations of "traitor," and led to a feud which was dropped only during the June 5-10 Middle East war.

In Jerusalem, Defense Minister Moshe Dayan reported to the Israeli cabinet on Saturday's cease-fire violations in which an Egyptian jet was shot down. The cabinet also announced it planned to stage next year's Israeli independence parade in Jerusalem instead of Tel Aviv.

Dayan said the Egyptian air action may have been intended to demonstrate Egypt's militancy to the Arab summit delegates.

Jordan's King Hussein was expected to be the first to arrive later today. Arab foreign ministers wound up their pre-summit skull session Sunday night and adopted a four point agenda for the chiefs of state.

Other Arab leaders expected early Tuesday in Khartoum are Egyptian President Gamel Abdel Nasser, Iraqi President Abdel Rahman Aref and Abdullah Sallal of Yemen. It was still not known if Algerian President Houari Boumedienne and Syrian President Nourdin Atassi would attend.

Cut in federal expenses urged by two senators

WASHINGTON UPI — Sen William Proxmire, chairman of the joint Congressional Economic Committee, today joined House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford in urging the Johnson administration to cut back federal expenditures enough to avoid a tax increase.

Proxmire, in a prepared Senate speech, said the President could easily trim his budget requests to a point where a tax increase would be unnecessary.

Ford said Sunday that neither "President Johnson or his advisers have made a case for a tax increase" and said a reduction in federal expenditures is a better answer.

"A tax increase could hit the economy at the wrong time," Ford said.

He spoke in a television interview Issues and Answers—ABC.

"I would not vote for tax increase based on the justification or attempted justification made by the President."

Proxmire also pointed out that a tax increase likely would not take effect until January and that the "economic outlook for two years beginning January 1, cannot be clearly foreseen by economists with the clearest crystal ball."

The House Ways & Means Committee, meanwhile, was continuing hearings today on the administration's tax proposals.

The National Grange, in a statement made public prior to today's hearings, said it supported the tax increase "in approximately the magnitude proposed by the President."

"We are convinced that a failure to support a tax increase at this time invites the clear certainty of putting our federal government back into the money market to borrow such substantial sums of money that interest rates would again rise as they did one year ago," the grange said.

"Agriculture is in no position to accept that sort of alternative."

Three meet death in Alaskan crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska UPI — The president of H. P. Wasson and Co. of Indianapolis, Louis Wolf, 40, his son, William, 16, and another Indianapolis area man were killed Saturday when Wolf's plane crashed near Nesbana, Alaska.

Wolf and his son had left Indianapolis Tuesday in Wolf's new single-engine Cessna for a bear hunting trip in Alaska. Alaska state police said the trio took off from the small Alaskan town of Northway earlier Saturday. Jeff P. Brown, 35, of Indianapolis, accompanied them, flying to Alaska on a business trip.

Brown formerly attended Terre Haute Garfield High School and was a Butler University athlete. He was the grand-nephew of Hilton U. Brown, for many years president of the board of trustees of Butler.

William Wolf attended North Central High School.

Their bodies were found about 200 miles southeast of Fairbanks and were identified yesterday.

DePauw group performs at Expo 67 in Montreal

DePauw University's "Men of Note" were featured today at Expo 67 in Montreal.

Members of the all-men's group convened Thursday to prepare for the series of three performances which they gave near the U. S. Pavilion.

The 13-man troupe was under the direction of Frank Jacobs, a recent graduate of DePauw and of Indianapolis Technical High School.

The Men of Note were formed in 1962. Their repertoire ranges from songs like "Halls of Ivy" to spirituals and from folk songs to their own breezy adaptation of the Beatles' "Michelle."

Several of the songs they sang in their Canadian debut are included in a new

Need practice

COPENHAGEN UPI — Comedian Danny Kaye, arriving Sunday night to help the Danish capital celebrate its 800th anniversary, asked a crowd of about 100 newsmen and spectators to join him in singing a song from one of his movies. But the crowd knew only a few words of "Wonderful Copenhagen."

"Boy, you better know it by tomorrow" when the celebration starts, Kaye said.

LP album produced by the Jacobs-directed group last year.

The singers were chosen by the Expo exposure on the basis of a tape recording submitted to the Office of the United States Commissioner General.

15 skydivers believed drowned in Lake Erie

HURON, Ohio UPI — Fifteen skydivers were missing and feared dead today in the choppy, murky waters of Lake Erie in the worst disaster in parachute history. Two others were killed.

Only four of 21 parachutists who bailed out of a converted B25 bomber Sunday were known to have survived. Two bodies have been recovered.

Planes, helicopters and Coast Guard cutters were searching the wind-swept lake for the other 15, but there was little hope that any of them would be found alive.

The plane was flying at an altitude of 20,000 feet over heavy clouds when 19 skydivers got the signal to jump. Because of an unexplained miscalculation, they broke through the clouds to find themselves over the lake instead of the field where they expected to land.

Two of them were rescued by a passing boat, and a Coast Guard cutter found the bodies of two more of the jumpers.

Two other skydivers with oxygen equipment jumped from the plane later at an altitude of 23,000 feet. They landed safely on target.

All of the skydivers were experienced parachutists. They were members of clubs in northern Ohio affiliated with the United States Parachute Assn. (USPA).

"It's the worst single disaster in history," said Ray Starnes, editor of pilot-chute magazine and an official of the USPA. "Nowhere in the world have more parachutists been killed in one jump, not even in military operations."

The two survivors rescued from the lake, Robert Coy, 29, of Springfield, Ohio, and Bernard Johnson, 30, of West Ridgefield, said only one of the divers had a life jacket. It was found floating empty on the water with a hole in it.

There were conflicting reports about the cause of the tragedy. The pilot of the plane, Robert Karns of West Vermilion, refused to discuss the accident.

Sox split pair with Boston; Twins lead by slim margin

By United Press International
The Chicago White Sox, after floundering into trouble at the outset, rallied to win in a walk. The end result was another traffic jam at the top of the American League standings. The White Sox, who lost the opener to the Boston Red Sox 4-3 when Ken Berry slid directly into catcher Elston Howard's shin guards and became the final out of the game, came back to salvage the nightcap 1-0 on four 11th inning walks.

Rocky Colavito, a pinch hitter who carried a 1-for-17 batting slump to the plate, drew a pass with the bases loaded and two out in the 11th from reliever Darrell Brandon, forcing across pinch runner Joel Horlen from third with the run that dropped Boston into second place, one percentage point behind Minnesota. Brandon, who relieved Jose Santiago in the 10th after the Red Sox starter had collided with catcher Mike Ryan chasing a pop bunt, walked Duane Josephson leading off the 11th and issued an intentional pass to Smokey Burgess following a sacrifice. Josephson and Horlen, running for Burgess, both advanced on Brandon's wild pitch but Josephson was trapped in a rundown after pinch hitter Ken Boyer bounced to the mound. Don Buford worked Brandon for a walk before Colavito took a low fast ball with a 3-1 count, presented Gary Peters with his 15th victory against seven losses and lifted the Sox to within one game of the top.

The Twins took over first place with a 6-3 triumph over Cleveland, Kansas City edged Detroit 2-1, New York hammered Washington 8-2 and a scheduled doubleheader between Baltimore and California was postponed by rain. In National League action, St. Louis whipped Los Angeles 6-2, Cincinnati outlasted Houston 11-8, Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 in a rain-abbreviated five-inning game, Chicago defeated New York in seven innings before a second game was washed out and Atlanta earned a split by beating San Francisco 4-1 after dropping the first game 2-0. Santiago, who allowed only three hits over 9 1/2 innings, was scheduled for X-rays on his shoulder which was injured in the collision. George Thomas, Boston utility outfielder who collected two of the Sox's four hits, also was to undergo an examination of his hand which he jammed sliding into third in the 10th.

Vukovich, Mosley, win USAC races Sunday

NEW BREMEN, Ohio UPI—Bill Vukovich, Jr., of Fresno, Calif., and Mike Mosley of LaPunite, Calif., won the two divisions of the Co-feature 50-lap USAC races at New Bremen Speedway Sunday. Vukovich, son of former two-time Indianapolis 500 winner, scored his first win in the Midwest. Mosley drove a new Ford owned by Jim Hurtubise to victory in the second feature, which Vukovich led until the 47th lap when his Chevrolet popped out of gear. That permitted Mosley and Sam Sessions of Nashville, Mich., to forge ahead for good. Vukovich ended in third place. Trailing were Don Thomas and Larry Dickson of Marietta, Ohio. Dickson won the trophy dash for the half-mile distance. The semi-feature went to Hal Minyard of Indianapolis.

YIPPEE, YUKIO!—After he had pitched the West Tokyo team into the finals of the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., Yukio Masago gets the hero's treatment from teammates. The Japanese team met North Roseland of Chicago in the finals.

Japanese team wins Little League World Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. UPI—West Tokyo returns to Japan today with the 21st Little League World Series title, only the second foreign team ever to win this competition. The Japanese squad became the first foreign team to win the series since Monterey, Mexico, in 1958, by downing Roseland of Chicago 4-1 Saturday. Consolation games between Northridge, Calif., and West Tampa, Fla., for fifth place, and between East Trail, British Columbia and the U.S. Naval Station from Rota, Spain, for seventh place, were cancelled because of wet grounds. The final standings of the series, won last year by Houston, Tex., had Newtown-Edgemont, Pa., third and Linares, Mexico, fourth. In the six-inning contests played at the Howard J. Lamade Memorial Stadium, built in 1961 exclusively for the Little League World Series.

Hole-in-one tourney held

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Edgar Mosbaugh of Noblesville won the men's division of the Indiana Hole-In-One tournament at Indianapolis Sunday. Mosbaugh came to within one foot, 9 1/4 inches of the hole on the 145-yard hole. The tournament, sponsored by the Indianapolis Star and News, gives each participant three shots at the green, the closest of the three goes down as the participant's best effort. Mrs. Robert Dalrymple of Indianapolis captured the ladies' title, firing a shot to within 7 feet, 9 1/4 inches of the cup. Taking second in the men's division was Dennis Hackett of West Lafayette, and third was David Saurbaugh of Speedway. Trailing Mrs. Dalrymple were Mrs. Mary Yarnall of Peru second, and Mrs. Richard Bixby of Indianapolis, third. Officials of the tourney said the largest turnout in the history of the unique tourney showed up on the cool and rainy course. Officials said 163 took their cuts at the ball, but no holes-in-one were recorded. In fact, officials said a hole-in-one has not been recorded in the last 14 years of the tournament.

Hambletonian Wednesday

DU QUOIN, Ill. UPI—A dozen 3-year-old trotters go postward in Wednesday's Hambletonian without a "lead-pipe cinch" among them, and "It should be a hell of a race to watch." Veteran driver Ralph Baldwin who won't watch—he has to drive in it—had those observations today. Most of the top-rated entries in the 42nd edition of the classic have taken turns beating each other this racing season. A strapping strawberry roan, Dazzling Speed, is rated the 4-5 favorite to take the $60,098 winner's share of a total $122,650 purse, but around the two rows of stables at the Du Quoin State Fair several think someone else will be moving into the winner's circle. The roan colt, driven by Stanley Dancer, who has been disappointed in seven prior Hambo tries, drew the coveted pole position Sunday after owners of nine colts and three fillies paid their final $2,000 entry fees. No time records are expected, despite the lightning fast, 1-mile Du Quoin track. Baldwin, who won with Speedy Scot in 1963, will drive Miss Marker, who he described as a "good, tough filly." She will race from the No. 4 spot and is rated at 6-1 at the betless track. Baldwin sees Dazzling Speed, Speed Model, and Speedy Streak as the horses to beat. Speed Model, the second choice at 2-1, will race from the No. 8 position. Speedy Streak is rated at fifth at 4-1 and will have Del Cameron in the sulky.

Haynie wins Amarillo Open

AMARILLO, Tex. UPI—Sandra Haynie broke up a five-way logjam with an ax-sharp putter Sunday for a four-under-par 67 that won her the $12,500 Amarillo Women's Open Golf Tournament. Miss Haynie was tied with four other golfers going into Sunday's final round. But she rolled in two birdie putts on the front nine and never was pressed. Her 67 was good enough for a 54-hole total of 212, two strokes better than runner-up Kathy Whitworth, the defending champion. Miss Whitworth, one of five golfers bunched at the top going into Sunday's round, had a two-under 69. The other three co-leadners, Judy Kimball, Mickey Wright and Marlene Hagee, all faltered. Miss Kimball had a 71 for 216, Miss Wright fired a 72 for a 217 and Miss Hagee ballooned to a 79 for a final score of 224. Carol Mann got the only other sub-par round of the day, a 35-34-69, and finished fifth at 219.

Rain delays softball game

MUNCIE UPI—Rain Sunday washed out the Indiana Amateur Softball Association championship game for the second straight day. The game was never started as showers kept the field unplayable through the afternoon and evening. On Saturday, the game had progressed to the fourth inning when defending champion Muncie led Mishawaka 1-0. The game was rescheduled for Tuesday evening, picking up where the teams left off Saturday. Mishawaka has been beaten once in the double-elimination tournament and must win to force the championship match into a second game.

Changes tires, wins Grand Prix

MOSPORT, Ont. UPI—A change of tires resulted in a $10,575 windfall for Australian Jack Brabham. The two-time world driving championship, sensing treacherous conditions ahead, wisely changed the tires on his Repco-Brabham moments before Sunday's start of the Grand Prix of Canada. Two hours, 40 minutes and 40 seconds later, at an average speed of 82.83 miles per hour, Brabham drove home the winner in Canada's first race for formula one cars. Denis Hulme of New Zealand, driving the other Brabham, had his tires changed at the same time as his teammate and he finished second, one minute and one second behind. Hulme led the race for 54 of the 90 laps around Mosport's 2.5-mile circuit. Californian Dan Gurney, in his own Eagle, finished third, a lap behind the two leaders. He had a time of 2:42:36.5. Hulme maintained his lead in the world championship standings as his second place finish gave him six points for a total of 43. Brabham's nine points for winning put him in second place with 34 points. Nightmarish conditions prevailed during the first 45 minutes and the final hour of the race as the drivers slithered around the corners and roared down the straights followed by great rooster tails of spray.

Opening lead—queen of clubs.

Back in the thirties a team known as the Four Horsemen, consisting of Willard S. Karn, P. Hal Sims, David Burnstine and Oswald Jacoby, dominated the world of bridge. For several years they rode roughshod over all opposition, winning most of the important tournaments. Karn, Sims and Burnstine have passed on to happier hunting grounds, but the memory of their exploits lingers on. Today's hand was played by Karn and is an example of fine technique. West led the queen of clubs, which held, and East won the trick.

club continuation with the ten. East cashed the ace of clubs and returned the jack. Having lost the first three tricks, Karn ruffed the fourth club with the jack as West took his second successive diamond discard.

Karn took a winning spade finesse and returned a heart, which he won with the queen. He now had the K-2 of trumps left and guessed well to play the deuce and ace of spades.

East returned a spade to the ace, on which South discarded a diamond, and Karn then made the key play of the jack of diamonds. East ducked and South finessed, West contributing the ten. A heart to the king picked up West's last trump and declarer's diamonds took the last three tricks.

When the play is examined, you find that the deuce of hearts play, the spade finesse and the jack of diamonds lead were all absolutely essential plays. Furthermore, the timing had to be in the exact order chosen.

The spade had to be led at trick five so that trumps could be initiated from dummy, and also had to be finessed so that South could not be ruffed down later on. The jack of diamonds lead was required to pin the queen and ten with one stroke.

No defense stops the contract. If West keeps his diamonds, declarer establishes the suit by ruffing one in dummy.

Whiting news wins

FORT WAYNE, UPI—Whiting News beat the Evansville Riflemen 5-4 on a rain-wet field here Sunday afternoon in the first game of the Stan Musial League state baseball double-elimination tournament.

Two other games were rained out. Officials of the tournament said four games are slated for Monday afternoon, including the two originally scheduled for Sunday night.

Whiting scored runs in the fifth inning when they pushed over the tying and winning run.

Evansville is the defending state champion. The league is for men 18 years of age and over.

Poor timing

GREELEY, Colo. UPI—The teen-agers who started a brawl in Greeley City Park Sunday couldn't have picked a worse time or place. Authorities said the youths began the fight while Weld County sheriff's officers were posing for pictures in front of the county court house, directly across the street. The law officers quickly ended the fighting.

State to have warming trend

By United Press International
Temperatures took an upswing in Indiana today following a dismal weekend which spoiled summer outings with scattered heavy rains and a pre-autumn chill.

The mercury Sunday, as the final weekend of August ended, didn't climb past the mid-60s in the northern and central portions and overnight lows plunged into the mid 50s this morning.

In the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Sunday, Monticello measured 2.48 inches of rain, Evansville 2.02, and many other points half an inch or more.

But the Indianapolis area recorded only a trace for the two weekend days.

A slow warming trend was in prospect through Tuesday, with highs in the lower and upper 70s but overnight lows again in the 50s.

The five-day forecast for the period ending Saturday called for temperatures averaging 4 to 6 degrees below normal and up to half an inch of rain, mostly about mid-week.

Little additional precipitation was in prospect through Tuesday.

South Bend reported one-third inch of rain in the past 24 hours. Fort Wayne .10 of an inch, the Chicago area even less.

Temperatures Sunday never got past 61 at Fort Wayne and Evansville reported a top of 75. The Pocket City, surprisingly, had the low overnight reading of 53 this morning. It was 54 at Indianapolis and Cincinnati, 55 at Fort Wayne and Louisville, and 56 at South Bend.

Terrorists kill hospital patients

By Richard V. Oliver
CAN THO, Vietnam UPI — The Communists killed some patients in their beds.

They got some, terrified, limping toward the hospital's rusty wrought iron gate. They killed some babies in their mothers' arms.

The blood of 46 dead Vietnamese and 222 wounded has undone this hospital in the Mekong Delta. A GI medic stood with clenched fists "There's something rotten about blowing up a hospital," he said. "It's like pumping bullets into a dead man."

The terrorists came Sunday, shortly after midnight, sneaking up from the rice paddies and meandering brown rivers around this provincial capital.

They lobbed in mortar shells and then got down to murder in the wards. The riddled walls were painted with blood and somehow only five Americans were wounded. They were fighting back. The wounded and ailing Vietnamese had no chance.

Lt. Col. Earl W. Fletcher of Moultrie, Ga., chief of staff for the IV Corps area which includes the Delta, said he thinks the Communists were aiming for the American base here.

"There was a strong west-to-east wind. This shifted the rounds by 50 yards to the military hospital," he said.

But the bullets hit the hospital and the shells too. "They mortared all over town," said nurse Betty Stahl, 26, of Chisolm, Minn.

An Army doctor, Maj. John Broe of Albuquerque, N. M., looked up after 16 hours trying to repair human damage, said he remembered he had called for blood donors. "Right away, we got units from Americans," he said.

He looked down at a small child whose mother had been hit by shrapnel in the head and chest. Proe said, "You know, people who say Vietnamese don't cry—that they are stoical—should have been here. These people are hurting."

Not all the children could cry. In ward 9, where some patients vainly sought shelter under their beds, lay the body of a four year old girl who had been visiting her wounded soldier father. He lived. She did not.

Matador has narrow escape

MADRID UPI — The matador they call "The Bullet" (El Bala) looked toward the grandstand and gave the bull his chance.

Manuel Alvarez expected the cheers of the crowd on this, the 20th anniversary of the day the great Manolete died of a horn in the thigh severing the femoral artery.

But the crowd screamed. The bull had burrowed a horn deep into The Bullet's right thigh, just like Manolete.

The screaming Sunday reverberated around the arena just north of Madrid as the bull spun The Bullet twice around the horn, like a propeller. Then Alvarez dropped, bleeding, into the hot sand.

The bullfighter jammed a whole hand into the gaping wound to stop the spurt of blood. His assistants carried him out and The Bullet moaned, "I'm dying, I'm dying."

He had suffered the Manolete wound.

Doctors said El Bala's act of grabbing the vein with his fist saved his life. They operated on him under the stands, spectators donating blood, and again today in a hospital.

Hoosiers killed in Illinois, Utah

By United Press International
Two Hoosiers were killed over the weekend in out-of-state auto accidents.

Patrick S. Smith, 14, Vincennes, was killed Sunday in a rural accident in Illinois, just across the Wabash River from Vincennes. He was a passenger in a car driven by Kathy Brocksmith, 16, Vincennes, who was also injured.

Emma Johnson, 60, Indianapolis, was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding ran off Kentucky 270 near Sturgis in Union County.

Two Indiana youths were injured Saturday, one of them critically, when their compact car went off U.S. 40-5 near Marshall, Utah.

Police said David McClain, 19, Bloomington, Ind., was thrown from the car and hospitalized in "very critical condition."

Less seriously injured was Carol Stencel, 20, Lebanon, Ind. The accident happened in the pre-dawn hours and was discovered by a passing motorist.

Virus disease hits wheat, oats, crops

Lafayette.—Yellow dwarf virus disease, known also as red leaf, of small grains has caused severe losses to Indiana's wheat and oats crop this year.

Dr. Ralph M. Caldwell, Purdue University plant pathologist, points out that at maturity heads of these grain crops infected with yellow dwarf are darkened by growth of mold fungi. Leaves of the infected plants could be identified earlier in the season by their reddish yellow or gray color. The infected plants usually occurred in spots from about two to 10 in diameter.

This disease also was severe in 1959 when an estimated loss of one-fourth of the state's oat crop resulted.

The severe attack of the disease on the 1967 wheat crop resulted in the heads being smaller than normal and shrunk. Caldwell said wheat losses could not be measured exactly, but estimated damage ranged up to 10 per cent in fields examined.

No resistant wheat varieties are known, although this crop generally is less severely affected than oats. The Purdue oat varieties Newton and Putnam and the new

Vice President's brother dies

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. UPI—Ralph Humphrey, 62, brother of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, died Sunday with the vice president at his bedside.

Ralph Humphrey operated the Huron, S.D., drug store where the vice president practiced pharmacy in his youth. The elder Humphrey had been hospitalized in St. Barnabas Hospital here the past several weeks, suffering from terminal cancer.

A spokesman for the vice president said he and Mrs. Humphrey planned to travel to Huron today to attend the funeral services. The date of the funeral had not been set.

Surviving Ralph Humphrey besides the vice president were his widow, Harriet and two sisters, Mrs. Frances F. of Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Fern Baynes of Minneapolis.

WEST CLINTON TWP.

Mrs. Aileen Overstreet was a house guest of Mrs. Blanch Rowing in Greencastle, Wednesday evening and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Irwin and Mrs. Gerald Clodfelter attended the cattle show at the Kentucky State Fair on Thursday. We express sympathy to the family and friends of Mrs. Lena Nicholson, who passed away in the K of P Home in Lafayette. She was formerly of Portland Mills. Her funeral was held in Portland Mills Christian Church on Thursday and she was buried in Mt. Moriah cemetery. Mrs. Nicholson was a sister of Mrs. Helen Martin of Clinton Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Campbell of Crawfordsville called on Mr. and Mrs. Morris Irwin and Mrs. Aileen Overstreet on Tuesday evening.

There was a large crowd attending the bridal shower for Pamela Coleman on Saturday evening given in the Portland Mills Church.

Our new minister, Brother Florence and his family from Michigan, have now moved into the parsonage and taken over the duties of the Portland Mills Church.

It was a surprise to look out on State Road 36 and see six ponies (or small horses) hitched to a covered wagon, come trotting up the road going east, with two men in drivers seats and a lady sitting in the covered wagon, sun bonnet and all. I notified neighbors up the road toward Morton, so it was not long until "droves" of children were following, some on foot and some on their bicycles.

Mrs. Oscar Perkins had as dinner guests on Thursday, Mrs. Carl Clodfelter, Mrs. Nelson Wood, Mrs. Ira Hutcheson of Greencastle, Mrs. Russell O'Haver of Morton, Mrs. Dewey Stultz and Mrs. Ray Clodfelter of R. 1. All enjoyed the delicious dinner and departed late, thanking Mrs. Perkins for a most enjoyable day.

Mrs. Manfred Clodfelter of Parke County, visited Mrs. Ray Clodfelter Saturday night and Sunday.

Auto industry strike almost inevitable

By David W. Chute
DETROIT UPI—The big three auto companies today put the finishing touches on initial contract offers they will present to the United Auto Workers Union Tuesday.

Two things were virtually certain: the offers would be almost identical from General Motors, Ford and Chrysler Corp. and the UAW was expected to label them "totally unsatisfactory."

A strike against whichever company is picked as a target appeared almost inevitable.

The union and the companies, after more than six weeks of unproductive bargaining, appeared as far apart as ever.

The union's demand for substantial wage increases for all workers, wage parity for Canadian workers, a guaranteed annual income, pension improvement, and other fringe benefits represented the biggest gains ever sought by the UAW. In the last contract settlement three years ago, the union got an average package increase of about 19 cents an hour each year, totaling 87 cents for the three years. The workers also have received an additional 18 cents an hour in cost of living raises. The total package amounted to 76 cents an hour.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther has made it plain the union wants an even bigger increase this year, plus upward adjustment of the cost of living formula to reflect the erosion of the dollar caused by inflation.

The companies, however, were not expected to offer much more and have demanded downward adjustment of the cost of living in the form of wage increase formula.

UAW bargaining officials openly expressed anticipation the offers being made Tuesday would be far below their expectations.

However, the company proposals would become the paper-on-the-table which the two sides use to get down to crisis bargaining during the final week before the Sept. 6 contract deadline.

Brown spouts off in Detroit

DETROIT UPI — H. Rap Brown told a cheering throng of Negroes Sunday the Detroit riot five weeks ago would "look like a picnic" when they get some guns and "take their due."

After Brown's harangue, Negroes hurled rocks, bricks and bottles at a car carrying two television newsmen, Jerry Crandall, 28, and Snuffy McGill. They fled without injury.

A cameraman for the National Broadcasting Co., James Jewell, told police a Negro wrestled his camera from him and ran away with it after the rally. Jewell was not hurt, police said.

Spouting black power venom on the west side, area hardest hit last month in the worst racial riot in modern U.S. history, Brown commended Detroit rioters on "a good job." Forty-three persons were killed in the disorder.

"Get yourselves some guns," the bushy-haired chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee shouted. "The honky white man is your enemy. The brothers are now calling Detroit destroyed. You did a good job here."

Brown, who came here while under $15,000 bond on charges of violating the National Firearms act, said the Detroit riot was "a war that was no accident."

He said the United States was trying to wipe out the Negro population throughout the Vietnam war, birth control, starvation of Negro children in the South and an unfair system of justice.

Idaho reports fire progress

By United Press International
Forestry officials reported "terrific progress" today in their battle against fires in Idaho, one of the hardest hit states in a siege of major blazes that has blackened 140,000 acres of the Pacific Northwest.

Substantial gains also were reported in Montana, California and Oregon, but hundreds of fires still raged out of control in British Columbia and a 3,000-acre blaze in Washington state was giving firefighters "a bad time."

The victories in Idaho came after Gov. Don Samuelson appealed to President Johnson Saturday for federal assistance in the state's worst fire problem in half a century. More than 40,000 acres of brush and forest have been destroyed.

Officials said the 5,000 firefighters already on duty in the Northwest were reinforced Sunday by 530 from points as far away as Alaska, Georgia, Wisconsin and California.

Six DC3 airplanes arrived from Houston, Tex., bringing the total at northern regional headquarters in Missoula, Mont., to more than 60—of every size, shape, make and color.

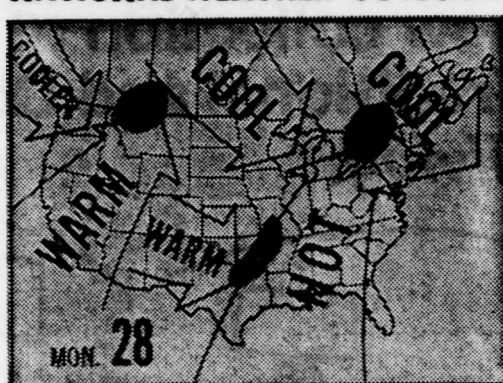

Idaho fires reported either under control or nearly so included the 17,000-acre China Creek blaze south of Lewiston, the rugged 9,000-acre Trapper Peak conflagration in the far north, the 7,200-acre Cottor Bar fire and the 1,300-acre outbreak on Box Car mountain.

A "red flag alert" indicating extreme fire danger was issued early Sunday when the weather bureau predicted a possibility of thunderstorms and increasing winds. However, the warning was rescinded in the afternoon when the weak front failed to materialize.

"We're making terrific progress," said one forestry official.

The 8,500-acre flathead fire in Montana's Glacier National Park was expected to be contained today, and two blazes totaling 2,500 acres were contained in California. There were no major fires reported in Oregon.
